

Council Asked For Housing Code

City Council Tuesday held one of those rare meetings when no legislation was enacted. The 45-minute session was occupied with the reading of communications, reports of the various bodies of city government and hearing citizens speak out on the traffic control problem on South Court Street and the need for a housing code and building inspector.

Harold Landis was the spokesman for the group seeking better traffic control. He said there was a definite safety hazard existing at the Court and Town Street intersection, and asked a traffic control light be erected there. Landis also contended that South Court from the Walnut Street intersection south was a drag racing strip. He felt the additional light would help eliminate this.

Council president Joe Bell noted the traffic situation on South Court is already being studied, and that plans were in the making to move the Walnut Street light to Town Street.

Tom Wells, chairman of council's safety committee, announced that a safety meeting will be held 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in council chambers and the matter will be discussed at that time.

Trudy Yates, spokesman for Circleville Community Mission located on Lowery Lane, commended the city and its citizens for restoration and new construction done in the downtown area.

She asked the city to adopt minimum health standards in housing, enact a program to implement these standards, and to monitor and enforce these standards. She said she was appalled and shocked that so little could be done to order substandard housing improved.

Fire Chief Mike Brown told council he agreed with Mrs. Yates and said the city should consider the hiring of a building inspector as its number one priority.

Service Director Atwood Jones told council there is a difference between a building code and a minimum standard.

Columbia Gas of Ohio lifted peak day emergency curtailments to industrial users today as temperatures were expected to warm to 20 degrees in some areas of Ohio.

The state's largest gas supplier also withdrew its plea to more than a million residential and commercial customers to voluntarily reduce gas consumption.

The easing of curtailments came as Columbia and other utilities urged Ohioans to continue their conservation efforts that saw gas and electric suppliers through several frigid days of high energy demand this week.

"The weather has moderated slightly, but only slightly," Bill Chaddock, a spokesman for Columbia, said Tuesday. "It's just not practical for us to lift any conservation efforts."

More than half of Ohio's 2.2 million public school students were away from classes Tuesday, according to state estimates, but Columbia did not request schools in its 56-county service area to close today.

However, East Ohio Gas Co. urged school administrators in its 18 northeastern Ohio counties to continue closing schools through Friday.

East Ohio also continued curtailments to industrial and commercial users at least through next Wednesday.

"Even if the rest of winter is not as severe, it's supposed to be worse than normal," said David Talbott, a spokesman for East Ohio in Cleveland. "And if this is the case, we cannot afford to let up on conservation efforts."

Meanwhile, the Dayton Power &

Light Co. received temporary approval from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on Tuesday to shut off natural gas to industrial and commercial boilers capable of switching to alternate fuels.

And the utility advised customers who have exceeded 50 per cent of their allowable winter usage that their gas was being cut off for the remainder of the season, through March.

Most electricity suppliers reported lower demands Tuesday, although 5 per cent voltage reductions remained in effect to customers of Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. and Dayton Power & Light.

DP&L facilities were still being operated by management personnel as a strike of Utility Workers Union employees entered its 20th day today.

A spokesman said Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. is able to supply electric energy to homes and businesses.

"But the situation still dictates that prudent conservation efforts be observed," a spokesman said.

Energy-saving actions among East Ohio customers last year saved 15 billion cubic feet of gas, Talbott said. "That helped postpone what has happened this winter," he said. "But it's going to have to continue."

Subzero temperatures and natural gas shortages in the East, Midwest and South forced hundreds of thousands of school children and workers to stay home today. Businesses were closed in many areas, and officials in several states predicted tens of thousands more layoffs.

Fuel emergencies were declared in at least two states and a number of cities, and navigation was restricted by iceblocked waterways throughout much of the nation.

Inaugural Hoopla Slowed By Chill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Carter is coming to town, President Ford is getting ready to leave and Washington has begun its inaugural hoopla amid bitter winter cold.

The bands began to play Tuesday night at parties thrown by the inaugural committee for the incoming Democrats. And at the White House, outgoing President Ford threw a surprise party for his wife, Betty.

Carter planned to leave his Plains, Ga., home and fly to Washington today after stopping at the Plains railroad depot to send off neighbors and friends traveling aboard a special inauguration-bound train.

Carter, 52, confessed Tuesday night that he felt "a little sad" about leaving his home town, but was ready for the move.

The peanut farmer-turned-politician will spend tonight, the eve of his inauguration as the nation's 39th president, in Blair House across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House. He will attend a nationally televised pre-inaugural gala at the Kennedy Center tonight.

President Ford, who spent some 30 months in the executive mansion he will vacate Thursday, kicked up his heels Tuesday night at the surprise party, with 100 close friends and Cabinet members attending.

The 63-year-old President, whose term ends at noon Thursday, invited new Republican members of Congress to visit him in the White House today on his last full day in office.

Ford, who came to Washington as a freshman congressman in 1949, plans to depart after Carter's swearing-in. He will fly by helicopter and presidential jet to California, where he has a date to play in the Bing Crosby golf tournament at Pebble Beach on Friday. The Fords have rented a home in the Palm Springs resort area and plan to live there.

An aide said Tuesday that Ford, who will have a 24-member staff and $1 million for transition expenses through Sept. 30, plans to speak at various colleges in the months to come. He will spend three days in February at Yale, where he attended law school.

A cold wave put a damper on the Democrats' fireworks display at the Washington Monument on Tuesday night. With temperatures in the teens, the Park Service estimated only 1,000 persons were on the snowcovered Mall for the display of four tons of fireworks. A million persons watched the pyrotechnics on the same spot last July 4th.

But the crowds were expected to swell to the hundreds of thousands for Thursday's swearing-in ceremony, the parade down Pennsylvania Avenue and the parties — official and otherwise — all over town.

A cold wave settled over the city more than a week ago, icing over streets and sending the thermometer plummeting to near zero at night.

Temperatures were expected to rise as high as the low 30s on Thursday with a chance of snow in the afternoon or evening.

The festivities that began Tuesday run for five days, with dozens of free events. The seven official parties Saturday night are open only to holders of the hard-to-come-by $25 tickets.

Bacteria Nailed As Death Cause

ATLANTA (AP) — It took thousands of tests, dozens of researchers and scores of chicken eggs to find the still-unnamed killer that claimed 29 lives in Philadelphia last summer.

Almost six months after reports of mysterious deaths started trickling to increasingly alarmed Pennsylvania officials, sleuthing scientists declared Tuesday that the cause of Legionnaires' disease was a bacteria-like organism never before isolated.

Isolating the organism does not solve the mystery, but it does give researchers something to look for. The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta said it will continue testing the 151 persons who recovered and will return to Philadelphia's Bellevue-Stratford Hotel to try to determine how the organism might have grown and been transmitted.

Most victims had attended the Pennsylvania American Legion convention headquartered at the now-closed Bellevue. All died from an upper respiratory infection similar to pneumonia.

The disease baffled city, state and federal scientists. Theories ranged from swine flu to poisonous metals to parrot fever — even sabotage was considered.

The scientists started at the beginning — with blood and tissue samples from the dead and the sick. The blood samples showed high levels of antibodies.

"We originally incubated autopsy materials in guinea pigs, and we got fever, which is a pretty good indication of bacterial infection," said Dr. Joseph McDade, a research microbiologist with the national Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

Known bacteria didn't react to the antibodies, so they were ruled out as the killers.

Searching for an answer among rickettsia — one-celled organisms smaller than bacteria — McDade again inoculated guinea pigs with tissue material from victims' lungs. The animals became ill.

McDade then injected chicken eggs with tissue from the sick guinea pigs and, sure enough, the embryos died. He found bacteria in the eggs, but so few that they had to be a contaminant, not a thriving group of organisms that killed, he thought.

The tests were run and rerun. Then, during another routine rickettsia test over the Christmas holidays, McDade found something different growing in the yoke sac of one of the eggs.

Most bacteria can be grown easily, but researchers found this organism very difficult to grow in an artificial medium.

Researchers eventually succeeded, and blood serum from 33 "typical survivors" of Legionnaires' disease was tested on the organisms.

Antibodies in the blood reacted in 29 cases. That meant the organism was the one the victims' bodies were fighting off.

But what was it? Did it kill all the victims? How did the victims catch the disease?

Researchers don't know yet. But they do know that the disease was not contagious, and that people who had the disease are "no danger to anyone in their communities whatsoever," Dr. Charles Shepard, chief of the leprosy and rickettsia branch at CDC, told a news conference Tuesday.

Common Pleas Court Upholds Liquor Option

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court concluded its hearings on the contested local liquor option for Pickaway Twp. Judge William Ammer decided in favor of the defendants, members of the board of elections.

The suit was filed by plaintiffs Joseph E. Goeller and 26 other persons against William A. Stout, chairman of the Board of Elections and five other persons on that board. Goeller was contesting the November election issues dealing with the local liquor option for Pickaway Twp. The complaint says that the conduct of the election was "improper, unlawful and irregular" for seven stated reasons.

The plaintiffs describe themselves as voters of the four separate questions on the ballot. The suit was filed Dec. 3 in the Clerk of Courts office.

During court proceedings Tuesday, Judge Ammer and a room filled with spectators heard testimony from five persons.

Petition circulators Linda Fosnaugh, 233 Monticello St. and George Bandy, Route 4 gave accounts of the procedures used by the notary publics when they had the petitions notarized. Mrs. Louise Hoover and Miss Gladys Noggle, notary publics, also gave accounts of the days they notarized the petitions.

According to Judge Ammer, the notary publics did not swear or affirm the signatures on the petitions. Therefore, the petitions for the local option were not notarized by affirmation.

According to James Kingsley, prosecuting attorney representing the defendants, an election protest must be filed 64 days prior to the general election. In compliance with this provision made in the revised code, Judge Ammer concluded that if the protest had been filed prior to the election, the petitions would have been declared invalid.

Because the election was held without the protest, the plaintiffs did not pursue the remedy available to them. The judge also dissolved the restraining order preventing the Liquor Control Board from taking any action against the business.

The three businesses represented in the suit were Pickaway Gardens Drive Thru, Shawnee Vineyards and the Logan Elm Bar.

34 Firms Join 1976 Chamber

RECORD MEMBERSHIP — The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce added 34 members during 1976, a record since its beginning in 1916. Bill Bennett, left, chaired the committee with the help of Tom Bennett, not pictured. His group is especially proud of the chamber's expansion into the county. Last year, efforts were concentrated on the Ashville area and chamber membership soared from two to 16 businesses in that section. The 1977 chairman, Harold Pontious, said last year was the first time efforts were made to branch out into the county. The expansion will continue to include other towns in Pickaway County. In this picture, Bennett and Pontious present the official chamber plaque to Taylor and Fern Lutz, owners of the Ashville Coffee Shop.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned upward today, bidding to break a three-session losing streak.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up a fraction in the early going. Advances held a slight lead over declines among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said the market atmosphere was still chilled by plant closings and fuel uncertainties resulting from severe cold weather in many parts of the country.

But some comfort was provided by the government's report this morning that consumer prices wound up 1976 with a 4.8 per cent rise—their smallest increase in four years.

For December the consumer price index posted a 0.4 per cent advance.

Today's early prices included Pittsburgh, up 1/2 at 32 1/4; Beneficial Corp., off 1/4 at 25 1/2; Dow Chemical, up 1/4 at 40 1/2, and Chrysler, down 1/4 at 20.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average gave up 4.82 to 962.43, its lowest close since it finished at 960.69 last Dec. 7.

That extended the average's loss since the start of the year to 42.22 points.

Losers outnumbered gainers by about a 4-3 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume reached 24.38 million shares, against 21.06 million on Monday.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks lost .19 to 56.04.

The American Stock Exchange market value index was off .18 at 111.12.

RECOVER PROPERTY — Pickaway County Sheriff's Detective Donald Thompson prepares to take an inventory of stolen merchandise he recovered with the Tuesday arrests of three Ashville juveniles.

Juveniles Charged With Restaurant, School Robberies

Three Ashville area juveniles have been arrested and charged with robberies of the Teays Valley High School and the Time Out Pizza by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and Ashville Police.

Two 17-year-old juveniles have been charged with two counts of breaking and entering and single counts of petty and grand theft.

A 15-year-old juvenile was charged with receiving stolen property and failing to report a crime.

The three youths are wards of the Ohio Youth Commission, according to Detective Don Thompson, and all have criminal records.

The Time Out Pizza, 64 Long St., Ashville, was burglarized after midnight Tuesday, according to Deputy Sheriff Nick Franklin.

The window on the Gay St. side was pried open. Candy was taken from the counter, and the thieves ransacked the cash register.

Change was taken from the money box of a Wurlitzer juke box, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into a cigarette machine.

Both machines are owned by the Superior Coin Machine Company, Grove City.

A tipped Deputy to the arrest of the trio, according to Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Detective Thompson and Ashville Marshall William Pontious arrested two of the youths yesterday afternoon, and the third was picked up by Marshall Pontious and Ashville Police Chief Alva Boyer a short time later.

About $45 worth of small change, candy, and food items taken from the Time Out Pizza were recovered with the arrests, as was a television monitor, microphone, and checks which were taken from the Teays Valley High School Sunday.

There also have been reports that Thomas L. Hughes and Ray S. Cline, former directors of the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research, have been on Carter's list.

Cline said Tuesday that he had not been contacted by Carter's people since Sorensen withdrew his nomination. But Cline said he, Hughes, Warnke and former CIA Director James Schlesinger were under consideration before Carter chose Sorensen.

Schlesinger has since been named Carter's chief energy adviser.

Slight Break . . .

Tennessee was particularly hard hit, with the state's Public Service Commission predicting that 100,000 persons could be out of work today because of factories and stores closed for lack of heating fuel.

Supermarkets, restaurants and drugstores in Clarksville, Tenn., were ordered to operate only six hours a day until further notice. Nashville industries were ordered shut down, and Nashville Gas Co. asked that public and private schools close to conserve gas.

Some areas in the freeze belt reported a slight "warming trend," but elsewhere the severe cold lingered and its effects multiplied.

In the Chicago area, where temperatures have been below zero in the daytime, thermometers climbed to 20 degrees Tuesday, but the National Weather Service reported that subzero temperatures will return Saturday.

Some 4,000 persons in southern New Jersey, idled Tuesday by cutbacks in natural gas, were expected to return to work today as industries turned to emergency oil and propane gas suppliers to stay open.

Agriculture officials in Florida said the state's citrus and vegetable crop was threatened by freezing temperatures.

Metropolitan New York had record low temperatures that caused commuter delays for a second straight day. Long Island and Connecticut railroad travelers waited up to 1 1/2 hours for trains on Tuesday.

Five emergency centers were set up in New York City to provide cots, blankets and hot beverages to persons without heat. Complaints were coming in at the rate of 1,500 an hour.

Schools in a number of states from Maine to Florida and throughout the Midwest were shut down Tuesday, and officials said classes would not be held today because of extreme cold.

In New York, about 100,000 pupils were affected by upstate school closings. Throughout Tennessee, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland and other states, school children were on unscheduled holiday.

Tragedy struck in Springfield, Mo., where four children who ordinarily would have been in school died in a series of fires blamed directly or indirectly on the cold weather.

The nation's two largest automakers halted or curtailed operations in four states and sent more than 25,000 workers home Tuesday. Ford Motor Co. and General Motors plants were closed in Ohio, New York, Michigan and Indiana.

Fuel emergencies have been declared in Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

Ice floes were as high as 12 feet in some parts of the Mississippi River, and stretches of the Ohio River froze solid.

"When you consider that 60 per cent of the millions of tons of cargo that move past St. Louis each year is fossil fuel — coal, fuel oil or gas — you have to believe that some power plants and factories up the Illinois River toward Chicago are going to be hurting soon," said Mel Doernhoefer, a spokesman for the Corps of Engineers.

Thick ice and severe cold forced temporary suspension of shipping on Lake Superior and the St. Mary's River, a 20-mile stretch linking Lake Superior and the Soo Locks with Lake Huron in the St. Lawrence Seaway system.

A Winter Navigation Board spokesman said Tuesday's closing was the earliest date in five years that the section has been shut down.

In Florida, Pensacola school officials sent 50,000 students home in an inch of snow on Tuesday, and flurries were reported over most of the state's northeastern area. Record lows of 27 in Daytona Beach and 32 in Fort Meyers were reported Tuesday, with no relief predicted before the weekend.

In Florida, the possibility that the state's vegetable and citrus crops could suffer heavy damage from a severe cold spell heightened today as weather forecasters projected freezing temperatures for the rest of the week.

Richard Van Brackle of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association said several more days of cold would probably destroy winter crops of cabbage, cauliflower and celery in Central Florida, potatoes and cabbage in North Florida and cucumbers, tomatoes and pole beans in South Florida.

Record lows Tuesday included 21 at Jacksonville, 27 in Daytona Beach, 29 in Tampa, 32 in Fort Myers, and 52 in Key West. Stores throughout the state reported runs on mufflers, sweaters, gloves, thermal underwear and blankets.

Firemen Make Early Run

Two firemen from Circleville's Stationhouse Two were called out at 5:23 a.m. today to respond to the Circleville Manor Nursing Home.

According to the report, a sprinkler head burst in the Manor, causing water damage to one wing.

Firemen and Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies helped personnel relocate residents of the Manor to dry locations. Firemen were on the scene for over a half hour.

Meal Appeal

Slow cookers are really not a new way to cook. In prehistoric times slow cooking was accomplished by cooking in pits dug in the earth. Various other forms of one pot cooking has been used through the ages.

In the 1930's to 1950's a variety of foods from soup to a complete meal could be cooked in the deep-well on the electric range, just as we can do today in a separate, attractive electrical appliance.

FEATURES TO LOOK FOR — Check for a suitable size, shape, and price. Look for the Underwriters Laboratory symbol, Underwriters Laboratory symbol which indicated the appliance meets minimal standards for electrical safety. Check the location of the heating element. Some models have a detachable base containing the heating element, allowing the pot to be removed and immersed in water or the dishwasher. The disadvantage with this method is the heat is concentrated at the bottom of the pot and scorching is more likely to occur. Some have the heating elements cemented into the stoneware or wraparound heating elements from top to bottom of cooker.

Generally, these models can not be immersed in water. They must be filled with soapy water and washed. If you do not know which kind is on display, ask the sales person to plug it in, place your hands on the bottom and sides and see what parts start to heat. A detachable cord usually costs a little more, but may be a convenience when using the cooker as a serving dish. Lids are glass, plastic or metal. A transparent glass or plastic cover allows one to check progress without taking off the cover. Every time you lift the lid and put it back, it takes 15-20 minutes to regain the lost steam and temperature.

There is energy saved using the cooker over the oven method, but studies indicate that the slow cooker does not necessarily use less energy than a conventional top of the range unit for the same meal. So convenience, rather than energy consumption, is the more important consideration.

Nutritionally, the cookers are beneficial only if you use all the liquid in the cooker. Otherwise some vitamins go down the drain. Some vitamins are destroyed by long slow cooking.

The food safety factor has been the subject of much debate because many of the slow cookers heat slowly, and foods are at these low temperatures for long periods of time. Food poisoning can result from too slow heating, so it is important to know how to protect the food being prepared:

1. Use high quality foods. Thaw frozen foods before cooking.

2. Follow recipes carefully. If instructions say to pre-heat, braise, scald, milk, etc., these things should be done. Such steps speed up the heating time. Ground meat should be browned before it is placed in the cooker as an insurance against food poisoning. Meat that has been ground has more surface exposed to the possibility of contamination than a roast that has a large unexposed area.

3. Use a thermometer if recipe size is increased. A thermometer would be a wise precaution at any time. All foods should reach an interior temperature of at least 165 degrees to control bacteria and should reach an interior temperature of 150 degrees within an hour. Poultry would probably reach this temperature in an hour, beef and other roasts would probably take longer, but the interior of the uncut meat is usually considered uncontaminated.

4. Home canned green beans must be vigorously boiled with lid on 10 minutes; canned meats, corn and greens 20 minutes before putting in the slow cooker.

There are a variety of slow cooker cookbooks available. Recipes you have used for years will need to be adapted to the slow cooker. Check your slow cooker recipe book for a similar recipe. Remember liquids don't boil away as in conventional cooking so reduce amount of liquid by about one-half. Reduce amount of seasoning in proportion with reduced amount of liquids.

The following recipes are intended for a family of 4 to 6, and are appropriate for 3½ quart models.

SWISS STEAK
2 lbs. round steak
Flour, salt and pepper
1 lb. can tomatoes, cut up
1 large onion, sliced
2 Tbsp. fat
1 Tbsp. steak sauce
1 stalk celery, thinly sliced
Cut steak into serving pieces. Pound flour into steak, add salt and pepper. In slow cooker, brown steak in fat. Pour off excess fat. In slow cooker, combine meat with tomatoes, onion, celery and steak sauce. Cover and cook on Low 6 to 7 hours.

APPLEBUTTER
8 cups applesauce
4 cups sugar
1-1½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. cloves
Cook apples and make into sauce. Combine above ingredients and bring to a boil on range surface unit. Pour into slow cooker and cook uncovered on High 6 to 7 hours.

CHILI NUTS
¾ cup margarine

2 (12 oz.) cans peanuts
1 (1½ oz.) pkg chili sauce mix
In cooker, pour margarine over nuts, add dry chili mix. Mix together. Cover and cook for 2½ hours on Low. Remove cover and turn control to high for 15 to 20 minutes.

Menu suggestion: Serve with onion rings, noodles, peas, bread or rolls, beverage. Have orange sherbet for dessert.

If you want more slow cooker recipes call or write the Extension Office.

They will be sent to you at the end of the series. The recipes include: Sausage and sauerkraut, Teriyaki Steak, Sloppy Joes, Roast Chicken, Barbequed Beef and Beans, Banana Nut Cake and Orange Cider Punch.

Rockefeller Tells Of Taking Veep Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, in a farewell address to the Senate, said he accepted the No. 2 spot in the administration because he wanted to help during the post-Watergate days.

"I came to this post, to which I had never aspired and had, indeed foresworn, because of the constitutional crisis facing the country," he said Tuesday.

"As I leave this office, I share with you and a grateful nation the profound satisfaction that our country has returned secure to its regular elective procedures of representative government."

Rockefeller, 68, succeeded Gerald R. Ford as vice president when Richard Nixon resigned the presidency.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was the first presidential candidate to campaign in an airplane. In 1932 Gov. Roosevelt flew in a Ford Tri-Motor from Albany to Chicago to receive the Democratic nomination.

Rock Opera About Eva Peron

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you listen to a rock opera about the life of Eva Peron? No, it's not a joke.

Eva Duarte Peron, second wife of Argentine dictator Juan Peron, may be an unlikely subject for the idiom that produced Elvis and the Beatles, but how would a rock opera on the life of Christ strike you if you hadn't heard of "Jesus Christ Superstar"?

Well, the boys who brought you "Superstar" now bring you "Evita," a serious, entertaining, hard rock look at the woman who rose dramatically from less-than-respectable beginnings to the side of one of South America's most dominant figures.

"She's an extremely impressive person, a remarkable person," said Tim Rice, 32, who wrote the words for "Evita." "And that doesn't mean one admires her 100 per cent. I like to say most people are good and bad. She was very good and very bad."

The rock opera was unveiled in album form here this week for the media and selected trendsetters, including Sylvia Miles and Prince Egon von Furstenburg. A head-start single of one of the opera's most stirring songs, "Don't Cry for Me, Argentina," already has sold a quarter-million copies in England.

Rice caught the idea for "Evita" from a radio broadcast he heard in 1973, spent some time in Argentina "getting the facts and a feel for the country," then returned home to England to sell the idea to Andrew Lloyd Webber.

Rice got the facts — Eva Peron's mundane background, her career in motion pictures and on the radio, her marriage to then-Col. Juan D. Peron and the brief decade she spent as one of the world's most glamorous, powerful and beloved women. It ends with her death from cancer in 1952 at 33.

"I was not trying to make a political point," he said. "I was concerned with what made her tick. It wasn't going to be a deep, scholastic study."

Webber, 29, and Rice spent two years creating "Evita" from the sketchy biography.

"We were trying in a way," Rice said, "to get over in a piece of music in 1976 the kind of impact she had 25 or 30 years ago."

"Evita" from Webber and Rice is a striking and not always flattering portrait of a woman of unflinching energy, driven by a desire to improve the lives of the masses and revered as a saint by her "shirtless ones." She was hated by the army and Argentina's aristocracy and, after all, was the powerful wife of a powerful dictator.

Antarctica's Ice Flow

Researchers from the University of Maine testing ice thickness at various spots on Antarctica's west coast have made tentative discoveries which could have a worrisome potential. The ice on the Ross Ice Shelf, which floats over the Ross Sea, appears to be thickening at the rate of three feet a year.

On adjoining Marie Byrd Land, however, the ice seems to be thinning by 16 inches a year. If that means the ice mass is sliding into the sea, sea levels around the world could rise as much as 20 feet sometime in the future. Test borings to check ice movements came to an end early in December when surrounding ice compressed and immobilized a drill after it had passed the 1,000-foot mark. In about a year attempts will be made to loosen the drill by circulating hot water through its shaft. Other tests continue to explore the unstable continent.

James Earl Ray

By JIM BISHOP

Around October, 1949, James Earl Ray decided that crime was the best-paying profession. The decision is difficult to assess because the records indicate that he was always captured. He spent so much time in prison that wardens called him "the commuter." Prisoners avoided the Smiler because he was always planning to get out of prison and, once out, planning how to get back in. He braved their contempt and turned on his enigmatic grin and said, "Don't worry, fellas. Someday I'll make one big lick."

One time he robbed a supermarket in a brightly colored straw hat and held still long enough to have his picture taken. Five weeks later, he robbed another supermarket in the same hat. Same smiler, too.

The second one was a two-man job.

Ray selected an overage convict who was deaf. The old man held the customers at bay with a gun. No matter what orders Ray yelled, the old man didn't hear them. The supermarket manager was surprised to find a gun aimed at him from the opposite side of the canned tomatoes. The Smiler ordered him to open the safe. The manager crept up the next aisle, found a phone, and dialed police. In the upstairs office, James Earl Ray yanked the phone wire out of the wall.

They backed out of the store, guns drawn, with $2,000. Ray had overlooked $15,000 in cash. They backed into a breadman on his way in. Ray and his deaf buddy got into a car. Ray hit the accelerator and made a fast right U-turn and almost flung himself out of the car.

Corporal Ray Dooley of Alton, Illinois, flew over a hill and downward in a squad car as Ray passed him flying upward. At the supermarket, Officer Dooley was astonished to find the getaway car flying back down the hill, across an empty hot and crashing into a barn.

He hadn't seen anything like this since the Keystone Kops. The officer got the old man, who said he wanted to return to prison because he was sick. Two revolvers were found in the car, $342 in cash, some license plates and a bright straw hat.

The Smiler had some blank money orders that he stole. It wasn't until he was in Leavenworth Prison that his confreres explained that a crook never signs the back of a money order in the same handwriting as on the front.

The keepers found him to be a boastful bore. He had a chance to transfer to a model prison. James Earl Ray declined on the ground that the model prison had "niggers." He hated blacks, he said. All of them should be deported to Africa, he felt sure.

He was out in 1959. Had Ray studied his own record, he might have felt like a suicide trying to hang himself with a shoelace. In the autumn, he planned to rob a Kroger Market at 3417 Ohio St. in St. Louis, Mo. It was, the Smiler figured, a two-man job.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Glen Johnson had seven newspaper, television and radio interviews in Miami, Fla. on Monday January 10.

That was a particularly busy day. On Tuesday he gave only five interviews, on Wednesday four, Thursday just two, and on Friday three. All were in the Miami-Fort Lauderdale-Palm Beach area.

It was just the beginning. Over a 10-day period Johnson scheduled 40 interviews, mostly on television, which would bring him also to St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and to his Pittsburgh office for a three-hour break.

Johnson might seem like the hottest talent on the talk-show circuit, but he is not in show business; he is president of Federated Tax-Free Income Fund, which assembles a portfolio of bonds and then offers the public shares in it. Since its inception 3½ months ago, Federated has sold more than $26 million of shares to investors.

Each day, on average, a thousand people call on Federated's 18 toll-free lines seeking information on the fund. Many buy. "Our sales have plateaued at $1 million a day," said Johnson, who is president of four funds in all with assets close to $600 million.

"I love to come to work in the morning," said the 47-year-old dynamo, who once ran the U.S. Savings Bond Division and who has been running in his present role since that day in October when President Ford signed the Tax Reform Act of 1976. Attached to that bill was an amendment permitting mutual funds to "invest in tax-free municipal bonds and pass through to their shareholders (the) tax exempt status of the interest earned on those bonds."

"Thirty minutes after the President signed the bill we were in business," said Johnson. Some others were ready at almost the same time, and now there are 15 funds in operation and 18 more ready for clearance.

In this short time the new funds, heavily promoted as taxfree, have sold to the public close to $600 million in shares, a figure Johnson estimates will reach $4 billion this year.

Amazing about this record is that the product, municipal bonds on which the federal government seeks no income tax, have been around for years.

Before the President signed the bill last October, individuals could on their own buy municipal bonds, and they still can, although usually only in units of $1,000 up and often in minimum units of $5,000.

At such prices the market was limited. It was limited for another reason too: it was generally felt that only the rich, in the higher tax brackets, benefitted from tax exemption.

That attitude has changed. Inflation has pushed many people into the 30 per cent bracket, and now the advertisements for the funds suggest the tax-free factor should be of interest to people of almost every income.

The funds make it easy to buy. After an initial investment of $1,000, some funds permit additional shares to be purchased in units of $100. And some permit you to redeem shares as easily as writing a check.

For the single person having taxable income of $14,000 — a 31 per cent tax bracket — the advertisements maintain that a tax-free return of 5 per cent is equivalent to a 7.25 per cent return on which a tax would be levied.

In addition, the ads relate, you enjoy diversification among many issues rather than depending on the results of just one or two. You benefit from "full-time professional management" too.

It all seems so easy, so convenient, so profitable, and it might be. But there are skeptics. They want to see a track record, a record of performance, and since there isn't any they maintain that the jury is still out.

They'll Do It Every Time

Twins' Parents Sue Toy Company

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The parents of baby twins who take turns portraying Archie Bunker's grandson on television's "All in the Family" program are suing for $2.5 million over production of a doll named for the character their children portray.

Superior Court officials said Monday that Steven and Dara Draeger filed the suit and also asked for an injunction to halt marketing of "Joey Stivic Dolls" by the Ideal Toy Co. of New York.

Their sons, Jason Charles and Justin Steven, are just over a year old.

The suit charges defendants Tandem Productions, Ideal Toys and Marvin Glass Associates with breach of contract.

The defendants were not immediately available for comment on the suit, but a Los Angeles spokesman for Ideal toys said the doll "has been selling pretty well" since last year.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have suffered with migraine all my life. I think I've seen more than 30 doctors. Each one gives me a pill that seems to help for a short while. Then I'm back again with my painful headaches. If you had these headaches, what would you do about it?

Mr. R. S., III.

Dear Mr. S.:

The first thing I would NOT do is bounce around from doctor to doctor without giving one of them a real chance to study me and to treat me with some degree of continuity.

Dr. David Codden, director of the Headache Clinic at the Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City, is a national authority on the understanding of migraine and other forms of headache. He believes that it is the impatience of people who want immediate answers to all of their headache problems that keeps them in a constant state of running from doctor to doctor. Only with an intensive program that studies all the variables that can be involved in the production of a headache can any consistent help be expected.

Food allergy, environmental factors, severe emotional stress, hormone imbalance and blood deficiencies are among the factors that can trigger a migraine headache.

It is obvious, when there are so many possible factors involved, that time becomes a most important element in the solution of this problem.

Today, there is no longer a need for a sense of hopelessness about this form of headache. For there now are drugs such as methysergide which are effective in preventing the onset of migraine. This and other drugs, when carefully chosen, are safe and effective.

A large number of new antidepressant drugs are contributing to the relief of migraine sufferers.

There are now many headache centers which devote themselves exclusively to the physical and the emotional implications of headaches. In your very city of Chicago, there is one of the most famous centers for the study of headaches. Dr. Seymour Diamond, at the Chicago Medical School, has contributed enormously to the better understanding of the factors involved in the prevention and in the control of this debilitating condition.

Carter Nominees Getting Quick Nods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the withdrawal of Theodore Sorensen as President-elect Carter's nominee for CIA director, Senate confirmation remains a virtual certainty for the other men and women Carter chose to run the government.

Three Cabinet nominees won committee backing last week, and at least five more were expected to win approval handily today.

Committees scheduled votes on Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus to be interior secretary; Ray Marshall as labor secretary; Joseph Califano as secretary of health, education and welfare; W. Michael Blumenthal as treasury secretary, and Patricia Roberts Harris as secretary of housing and urban development.

Nomination of Thomas B. Lance to the Cabinet-level post of director of the Office of Management and Budget also was up for a vote.

The Senate Judiciary Committee finished hearings Monday on Griffin B. Bell's nomination to be attorney general after five days of testimony. There was no indication when members would vote.

Despite controversy over Bell's membership in clubs that have no minority members and over his role during Georgia's resistance to school desegregation in Georgia, his confirmation seems assured.

Bell, an Atlanta lawyer and former federal judge, told the panel Monday

Milk Woes Being Solved

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Most of the world's adults cannot digest milk, but they may someday be able to derive nutrition from the liquid food with the help of a chemical additive being tested here.

If successful, the tests could help provide a new source of protein for the earth's underfed millions, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists say.

So far, the scientists say they have gotten good results from trying out the chemical, called lactase, on animals. Within a few months, they say, large-scale testing may begin on humans.

Lactase is necessary to break down the sugar in milk so it can be used by the body.

Infants produce it naturally in their intestines, but as people grow older, they often lose their ability to make it. When people fail to make the chemical, they do not get milk's nutrition and suffer upset stomachs if they drink it.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

For the past eleven years, I have been a resident property owner in Washington Township. During that time our roads have been kept clear and safe for the school buses and working people to get to and from school and work during bad weather.

Friday, January 7 bad weather came to this part of the county and again from noon on Sunday all the week of the ninth, our trustees, Art Leist, Russell Congrove and Tom Dern with helpers Melvin Henry and Kenny Majors have been on the road clearing equipment, working the clock around keeping our roads as safe as was possible. When it was drifting so bad, I could hear the equipment periodically going up and down our road.

It made everyone feel safer knowing we have such dedicated people working like this on our roads in case an emergency should arise. You could also see neighbors helping one another in their drives; people drove carefully and lending a helping hand when someone got in trouble. This morning Darrell Carter voluntarily gave his time and equipment to open our driveways of the heavy soft snow that fell Friday.

To our trustees, the helpers, Mr. Carter and everyone who I don't know about who have worked so hard, thank you seems like two small words but may you know they are sincerely meant.

Miss Morrison Mr. Maxson Wed

MR. AND MRS. DONALD RICHARD MAXSON JR.

In a double ring ceremony in the Laurel Hills United Methodist Church, Laurelville, Miss Vicki Lynn Morrison became the bride of Mr. Donald Richard Maxson Jr. 2:30 p.m. Dec. 19.

The Rev. Robert Hudgins performed the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morrison, 560 Edgewood Dr., Circleville, and the son of Mrs. Mary Lou Maxson 27634 Jackson Road, Circleville and Mr. Donald Maxson 8244 St. Rt. 56 East.

The altar was decorated with two candelabra and red poinsettias. The church had two lighted Christmas trees and each window was trimmed with a wreath and candle.

The organist, Mrs. Roger Egan, presented a program of music preceding the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She was escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding she selected a floor length gown of ice blue satin with long tapered sleeves edged with a stand-up collar with lace edging. The dress had a ruffle around the bottom and featured a long-flowing ruffled train. The finger-tip veil was made of matching ice blue illusion. The bride carried three long stemmed white roses with blue and white streamers. 'Brother Dominic' Becomes Famous

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Eagle says he's become so identified with his television commercial role as Brother Dominic that "The guys on a garbage truck in New York even asked me to hear confession."

Eagle, who used to work mostly as a comedian at resorts in New York's Catskill Mountains, said his work on the Xerox commercials has made him "an entity, a semi-name."

Eagle, who stands 5-foot-4 and weighs 210 pounds, said he auditioned for the part after he heard a "general call had gone out for a cherubic type."

"Of course," he added, "I've never thought of myself that way. I've always seen myself more of a Gregory Peck type."

Circleville Jaycees Chartered In 1942

The Jaycee movement began in Circleville on April 21, 1942, when the Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered by young men wishing to improve their community and to develop leaders thru service to Circleville.

James Yost served as president. Other officers were Sheldon Mader, 1st vice-president; Richard Williamson, 2nd vice-president; Robert Hempker, secretary; Fred Grant, treasurer; Glenn Skinner, State Director; and Roger Vega, Joseph Brink, Harold Clifton, Dr. Robert Hedges, John Robinson, and Glen Storts, members of the Board of Trustees.

The Jaycees of Circleville have remained active thru the leadership of men who served as President to better the community and acquired the traits of leadership and management which they have continued to use in their businesses and other service to the community, schools, churches and local government.

William Stout, 1961-62; Jack Alkire, 1962-63; John Fissell, 1962-63; Charles Allton, 1963-64; Glen N. Hill, 1964-65; Richard Huggins, 1965-66; Dr. Robert Liggett, 1966-67; Thomas R. Elsea, 1967-68; Asa Elsea, 1968-69; Ernest Lindsey, 1969-70;

Archie Ward, 1970-71; Jake Bailey, 1971-72; Larry T. Eveland, 1972-73; Louis McFarland, 1973-74; James Roese, 1974-75; Bruce Bell, 1975-76; and Bob Conley, 1976-77.

Thru the years over 1,500 young men in our community have been members of this organization and have had the opportunity to make Circleville a better community in which to live.

The story of the birth, growth and development of The United States Jaycees is an interesting one.

In 1914, in St. Louis, Mo., Henry Giessenbier was an ambitious, 22-year-old bank employee and president of a federation of dancing clubs. This federation was formed when Henry merged his own special - the Herculeanum - with several similar organizations. To spice the meetings of the federation, speakers often appeared, discussing the vital topics of the day. One speaker was Colonel H.N. Morgan, who challenged the group with a civic improvement project, and, as a result, Giessenbier and 31 young men founded the Young Men's Progressive Civic Association on October 13, 1915, at the Mission Inn - birthplace of the Jaycee movement.

By 1918, the organization was known as the St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce and the fame of its work was beginning to become known. As a result, Giessenbier decided to form a national organization, and at a caucus in January of 1920, the U.S. Jaycee organization was born.

It had its troubles during the 1920's and early 1930's, but was still one of the fastest growing groups in the country. After the war the real growth came, and today there are some 6,400 local organizations with a membership total of about 325,000.

The United States Jaycees, which had no home city for its headquarters until 1935, now operates from the modern $560,000 War Memorial building in Tulsa, Oklahoma. It was dedicated in 1951 to the Jaycees who gave their lives for America in World War II.

At the 1965 convention, held in Buffalo, the name of the organization was officially changed from the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce to The United States Jaycees.

Linking the U. S. Jaycees with overseas is the world alliance of Jaycees - Junior Chamber International, founded in 1944, in Mexico City. It has spread to 80 countries, with Jaycee chapters and over 400,000 members.

In 1927 Edwin H. Thiemeier and Lee Augustine of Cincinnati first began their campaign to form the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce. Thiemeier was President of the Cincinnati Junior Chamber of Commerce which had been organized by Henry Giessenbier, (1921) but there was no state organization, only individual chapters throughout the State, Augustine, while traveling on business, arranged a meeting in Dayton for these isolated groups.

The first organizational meeting at Dayton in February, 1928 was unsuccessful. Most of the Junior Chambers in Ohio were neither in the western or southern part of the state except Dayton, Springfield, Columbus, Toledo, Bellefontaine, and Marion. Many early chapters were organized through local effort. Either somebody had heard of a Junior Chamber of Commerce or the idea had suggested itself and an organization was started in the community.

The original organization existing in Dayton and Columbus eventually were defunct and were replaced by the two strong organizations in those cities today. As a matter of record, it was a dispute between the two existing chapters in Columbus that broke up this first state meeting with no issues resolved.

In the summer of 1929, many of the issues discussed in Dayton had been resolved in an intensive personal campaign on the part of the Founders and the Springfield Jaycees were persuaded to host the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce Convention. Saturday, October 12, 1929, this organizational meeting was held. With the approval of a constitution, election of officers was held with Thiemeier elected as the first President and Augustine as the first Secretary.

State Conventions were to be held every six months with Cincinnati hosting the second, Lakewood the third, and Toledo the fourth. Since the Toledo Convention, they are held on an annual basis.

At the beginning of efforts to organize a State Jaycee organization, George Chandler, Executive Vice President of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, was contacted and he gave full cooperation.

The Chamber extended to us the honor of having our State President Act as an Ex-officio member of their Board of Directors. The growth of our State organization has been marked by the increase from 6 to 288 chapters in Ohio. For the first several years our growth was very slow and not too encouraging; but today, we are one of the three largest Jaycee states in the nation, with over 15,000 members in more than 288 chapters throughout the state.

The Ohio Jaycees can also be proud of the fact that they were the first State organization to adopt 100 per cent individual Junior Chamber International membership. January, 1966 the members voted to adopt the name Jaycees in accordance with the National organization.

Today every Ohio Jaycee is proudly linked with every Jaycee throughout this country and world.

The Jaycees limit members to those young men between the ages of 18 and 35 to insure that the principles and direction of the club are always fresh and up-to-date.

To replenish the supply of new ideas, the club must continually seek new members. Young men interested in the club are invited to join. Address is The Circleville Jaycees, Box 583, Circleville, Ohio 43113.

Each Year Jaycees Honor Outstanding Citizens

Each year the Circleville Jaycees along with other members of the community take time to honor some of the outstanding members of the community. The Jaycees do this by holding the Distinguished Service Awards Banquet at the end of January each year.

During the preceding months of November and December forms are made available to many individuals and organizations so they may nominate qualified candidates for Outstanding Young Citizen, Outstanding Young Farmer, Outstanding Young Citizen, Outstanding Young Educator and Outstanding Young Man.

The Jaycee chairman takes entry forms to his respective areas. As an example, the chairman of the outstanding young educator program takes the OYE forms to the superintendent of the local school districts. The superintendents then pass the forms on to the candidates to fill out. These forms are returned to the Jaycees for judging.

During Jaycee week, Jan. 17 through the 22, the winners of Outstanding Young Farmer, Outstanding Young Citizen and Outstanding Young Educator, are announced in the newspaper and radio.

The outstanding young man and senior citizen are announced at the banquet. In past years the Jaycees have been honored by the support and presence of other local clubs as well as members of the community.

During the past years speakers have included: Lt. Gov. Richard Celeste, Ray Mononichie, Father Richard Connelly. This year Ohio's Attorney General William Brown will be the guest speaker.

Juvenile Traffic School Held

The Circleville Jaycees hold a traffic school for juveniles convicted of violating traffic laws.

Each year many young residents of the county are lost due to traffic fatalities.

A great deal of these fatalities could be prevented if a little common sense was used. This is why an effort is set forth by us to try to help the Juvenile traffic offenders understand that driving a car is by no means all fun and games.

When a juvenile is picked up for a traffic violation he is instructed to take four weekly courses on traffic safety.

These classes are held on the first four Wednesdays of each month.

During these classes we talk about how each person could have prevented his or her violation! This is why a little bit of common sense could save a lot of lives.

Operation Red Ball Is Jaycee Project

The Circleville Jaycees sponsored a project known as Operation Red Ball during the last three years.

This project was run as a public safety project. The purpose is to save the lives of young children and invalids in case of an emergency.

A small plastic decal is placed in the upper left corner of the room window of a small child or invalid and the local firemen and police immediately can locate them and bring them to safety.

The Jaycees still have a supply of red balls and will send them to you if requested. Just send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Red Ball, P.O. Box 583, Circleville, Ohio, 43113.

HALLOWEEN — The Circleville Jaycees sponsor the Halloween Parade and Costume judging each year. The event is popular with young and old alike.

Jaycee Creed Written In 1947

Bill Brownfield, inspired by the Milwaukee Convention in 1946, wrote the Jaycee Creed, officially adopted by The U. S. Jaycees in 1947.

In 1951, he added the line which affirms the Jaycees' belief in God, and now precedes all other parts of the Creed.

After writing the Creed, Brownfield etched a brilliant Jaycee career, serving as state president in Ohio and U. S. Jaycee vice president. He is best remembered for the creed for it is the perfect expression of the spirit of young men who want to better the world in which they live.

In Buffalo at the 1965 annual convention, Brownfield was honored for his outstanding service by being unanimously elected Honorary President of The United States Jaycees.

Little Miss Pumpkin Show Is Annual Event

Originated in 1947 by the Youth Canteen, the Little Miss Pumpkin Show parade and contest are now sponsored by the Circleville Jaycees.

They are the opening events of Pumpkin Show and have gained in popularity each year, drawing more and more contestants.

This past year there were 138 young girls entered. Bob Helwagen was the chairman.

Any girl can qualify if a resident of Circleville or Pickaway County trading area and enrolled in the first grade of school. The child must be sponsored by either a business establishment or a school.

Jaycees Sponsor Two Events At Fair

The Jaycees two years ago took over the sponsorship of the Pickaway County Pet Parade in addition to the annual Fair King and Queen Contest.

The Jaycees conduct the parade as well as provide the awards. They provide the awards for the King and Queen Contest, one of the most popular events of the fair.

The author described the Creed:
1. THAT FAITH IN GOD GIVES MEANING AND PURPOSE TO HUMAN LIFE — "Though we come from many religions, we are united by a common bond of faith. In finding a useful place in the continuing process of creation, we forget emphasis upon self and experience the sense of fulfillment that has been the reward of all who have contributed to human progress."

MDA Telethon Conducted By Jaycees

The Circleville Jaycees sponsor the local M.D.A. Telethon each year on Labor Day Weekend.

The local Telethon is connected with Columbus, which is a branch of the one the community watches on Television with Jerry Lewis.

It takes many people to run the local project. Jaycees have worked with many clubs in the past to help out. The SOS girls, Demolay, Rainbow Girls, Ashville Jaycees and Jaycee Wives Club have helped. If it weren't for these clubs and local businesses supplying us with food, telephones, adding machines and tables and chairs, we wouldn't be able to put smiles on so many of these Muscular Dystrophy patients across the nation.

The biggest help of all comes from the residents of Pickaway County. If anyone wanting to help the mission to conquer Muscular Dystrophy this year, please contact me at 474-4645.

2. THAT THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN TRANSCENDS THE SOVEREIGNTY OF NATIONS — "Art, science, education, commerce and religion know no boundaries, survive the nations themselves, and prove that it is the man himself which counts and not the political subdivisions of the world."

3. THAT ECONOMIC JUSTICE CAN BEST BE WON BY FREE MEN THROUGH FREE ENTERPRISE — "Where economic progress has been greatest, free men live. When, if ever, socialism replaces free enterprise, the decay of political considerations will overwhelm the ability of the individual."

4. THAT GOVERNMENT SHOULD BE OF LAWS RATHER THAN OF MEN — "A government must be responsible to a fundamental law and the consent of the governed, to avoid becoming a police state . . . ruled by the men in power at that moment. The institutions of free men will survive only so long as private citizens devote themselves to their civic responsibilities."

5. THAT EARTH'S GREAT TREASURE LIES IN HUMAN PERSONALITY — "The earth would have no treasures if it were not for man. He alone can develop material treasures and he must find ways of living with this progress without the destruction of human values."

6. AND, THAT SERVICE TO HUMANITY IS THE BEST WORK OF LIFE — "In response to a need for self-expression, many have discovered that participation in worthwhile activities, kindness, helpfulness and understanding of people's problems, is indeed the best work of life."

Local Jaycee Structure Resembles Government

The structure of the Jaycees resembles the structure of our own government.

There is a president, two vice presidents (internal and external), secretary, treasurer, five directors and one state director which makes up the board, like the congress.

This year's Jaycee structure starts out with state director Mike Gilmore. His duties begin by presiding over all board meetings allowing the president to voice his opinions. Also he has the responsibility of relaying the information between the local chapter and the state structure including getting rooms for all conventions and state functions and setting up visitations with other chapters.

The president, Bob Conley, presides over all general membership meetings including agenda's for each meeting, writing a newsletter for each month that goes out to each member and state officers.

He oversees all functions the Jaycees hold and helps spread the good name of the Jaycees whenever he can. He attends all state meetings and answers all questions asked about Jaycee actions.

Secretary this year is Keith Staffan. His duties consist of taking minutes of all membership meetings and board meetings, mailing of all newsletters and other information.

Treasurer this year is Brad Thompson. His responsibilities consist of handling all money, all dues billings and reporting to the members.

Fred Marshall is the internal vice president. His job is to supervise all internal functions of the chapter. He has three directors under him. The first is internal director Jeff Wise. Wise sets up all Speakup, Spoke and Sparkplug candidates who compete in state functions, all membership nights and oversees membership drives.

The second is social director Sam Reeser. Reeser presides over all functions of the chapter, quarterly awards banquet, Christmas party, spring dance, hayride and stag party. The third is ways and means director Hap Eaton. He oversees all projects the chapter runs for ways and means.

Some of the projects include Pumpkin Donut booth at Pumpkin Show, trash bags, 4-H horse show, radio day, circus, Christmas Tree sales. All three of these directors report to the external vice president.

The external vice president is M. J. Ward. He oversees all functions the Jaycees run outside the chapter itself. He has two directors under him. Youth and sports director Chuck Ward presides over projects such as shooters education, Easter Egg Hunt at Brooks Yates, Special Olympics for retarded children, Halloween Parade, Christmas Parade, Little Miss pageant at Pumpkin Show, Junior Bowling, Junior Champ, Junior Golf, Jaycee Softball, Santa's House, Industrial arts awards, traffic school.

The second director is community director Steve Barthelmas. He presides over all community minded projects that the Jaycees have run in the past and present: grandstands at the fairgrounds, move the old Sturm and Dillard steam engine to the fairgrounds, pet parade, paint grandstands, Distinguished Service Awards banquet, the muscular dystrophy telethon, bleachers at Ted Lewis Park, Ted Lewis Park Entrance, supervise Christmas baskets, courthouse lighting, voting election service.

The last member of the board is immediate past president Bruce Bell. His function is to advise.

The chapter also has a public relations man who this year is Bob Helwagen. He is responsible for all pictures, news articles and radio coverage.

Industrial Arts

Awards Sponsored

Jaycees feel it is important to show how all aspects of education are vital to a strong America.

Each year at Circleville High School the outstanding individuals in the various industrial art areas are recognized. These students are chosen for their overall ability and drive for excellence.

Last year the plaques for these awards were donated by Asa Elsea.

Good Recreational Areas Aim Of Circleville Jaycees

The Jaycees have always strived for good recreational facilities in the community.

They cooperated with other service and civic clubs to help establish Ted Lewis Park. Over the years they have continued to work toward improving the facilities at the park. They built the original three tennis courts and erected the backstop fence for them in 1958. In 1959 John Fissell, who also chaired the tennis court project, chaired a committee to replace the bleachers at the big diamond. The old wooden seats were rotting and they were replaced with concrete structures.

During 1961-62 Jaycees built basketball courts at High Street, South Court Street, Franklin Street, Atwater Street and Walnut Street Elementary Schools.

The Jaycees cleared and constructed a ball diamond and supplied playground equipment.

This year they constructed the arch at the main entrance of Ted Lewis Park. It was the largest project undertaken by the Jaycees this year.

Memorial funds honoring Capt. W. J. Barthelmas and Lt. Col. D. G. Jackson were donated by the family and combined with the proceeds from Hoxie Brothers Circus provided the $3,000 for the structure.

Donations of time and materials for its construction were made by Louis McFarland, Basic Construction, Boyer Hardware, Sturm and Dillard, Wood's Welding and Albert Haines. Dedication was held on Labor Day weekend.

In the early 1960s it became apparent the grandstand at the fairgrounds was deteriorating and in need of renovation. The old wooden structure was also too small. The Jaycees worked with the fairboard and had five projects to pay the architects for the original blueprints for the present cement structure.

During 1961 and 1962 the Jaycees raised enough money to purchase the plans and donate the remaining fund to the fair board to be used for the actual construction.

The fairgrounds have been a continued target for Jaycee projects. They have painted numerous buildings over the years and in 1975 repainted the grandstand.

In 1966 Sturm and Dillard Co. offered to donate a steam locomotive to the historical society. But there was neither a place to put it nor the means to move it.

The company turned down numerous offers to sell the antique. In 1975 the Jaycees learned of the desire of the company to locate the locomotive somewhere in the community. They accepted the relocation project. The Pickaway County Fair Board was generous enough to donate space to place the locomotive and accept the responsibility for it after relocation. The Jaycees coordinated enough lifting power to raise the machine and relocate it at the Fairgrounds.

Jaycees Hold Easter Egg Hunt At B-Y

Annually the Circleville Jaycees take on the project of an Easter egg hunt for the students of Brooks Yates School.

Approximately 20 dozen eggs are donated by Frederick Graves of Clear Creek Foods, Stoutsville.

Jaycees boil and color and decorate the eggs. Easter baskets are made each year by the Williamsport Brownie Troop 928. The baskets are filled with candy and a small gift for the students.

When all preparations are completed a troop of Jaycees hide the eggs at the school and after the hunt the Easter baskets are presented to each student.

Record Lows Grip Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Record low temperatures still grip the eastern half of the nation — the lowest reading in the country early this morning was 21 degrees below zero at Houlton, Maine.

Snow fell through the eastern Gulf of Mexico coastal states and into central Florida. More snow scattered along the Great Lakes as well as through the northern half of the plains.

Travelers' advisories were posted for the South Carolina coast, Mississippi, Louisiana, Nebraska, Minnesota and North Dakota.

In the west, rain and snow mixed along the northern Rockies and warm winds kept temperatures in the northwest well above seasonal levels. Yakima, Wash., broke its record high for January with 68 Tuesday afternoon.

The highest temperature this morning was 73 degrees at Point Mugu, Calif.

Today snow is forecast from the upper Mississippi Valley across the north and central plains, with a few snow showers along the lower Great Lakes and the Appalachians.

Rain is likely along the northern Pacific coast. It will be unseasonably warm from the Pacific coast through most of the Rockies and much warmer from the plains across the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Owens-Corning Earnings Rise

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Strong demand for residential insulation was credited by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. with helping to increase 1976 sales and earnings.

"Insulation sales to residential markets reflected increased use of insulation in both new and existing housing," said William W. Boeschstein, company president. "Strong demand has continued through the early winter, months we normally experience a seasonal decline."

The company reported consolidated net sales last year totaled $1.08 billion, compared with $885 million in 1975. Net earnings were $72 million or $4.80 per share compared with $42 million or $2.81 per share in 1975.

The first refrigerator was designed in 1803.

Junior Champs Meet Held For Area Students

For several years the Circleville Jaycees have sponsored and conducted a track meet for the Pickaway County School Districts.

The annual event is generally held in the latter part of May and takes from two to three months to program, prepare materials and line up Jaycee manpower.

The junior champ track meet is a project that gives the area athletes a chance to compete against their peers in track and field events in which they are best qualified.

It also gives them a chance to qualify for state competition. The meet offers approximately 50 events in various age groups in track and field. The State Jaycee track meet is held in July.

Special Olympics Held For Handicapped

The Special Olympics of track and field events for the students of schools for the mentally handicapped is sponsored by the Jaycees.

Students this year were from Brooks Yates, Orient Institute and Pioneer School.

The Special Olympics is a combined effort of Circleville, Ashville and Lancaster Jaycees.

Christmas Busy Time For Jaycees

Christmas time is one of the busiest times of the year for Circleville Jaycees.

They help decorate the courthouse, distribute food baskets to needy families, sponsor the annual Christmas Parade and sponsor Santa's House.

The Christmas parade is always held the Friday following Thanksgiving.

What To Do About Tasteless Ads

DEAR ABBY: Now that someone wrote in to complain about offensive TV commercials, I want to state my objections.

I really don't see anything so offensive about feminine hygiene products. But what spoils my appetite are commercials about acid indigestion, sinus trouble, hemorrhoids and diarrhea.

While having dinner, I don't want to look into anybody's nose, down his throat or through his bowels. Thank you.

TURNED OFF IN TRENTON

DEAR TURNED OFF: Several thousand other readers wrote in. Read on for two vastly different views, and what to do about offensive advertising.

DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote to say that douche, Kotex and tampon commercials on TV were offensive and should be banished. (She said her teenagers left the room in embarrassment when such ads came on.)

Children who are reared with these products in plain sight in the bathroom and who have their questions answered frankly would not be embarrassed by these ads.

I think beer and cigarette commercials are far more harmful. (Fortunately, we have done away with the latter.)

If this lady wants to get uptight about something, she should forget the

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic air eased its grip a little on Ohio today and for the first time since very early Sunday, the state passed the night without setting any low temperature records. In addition, it was the first dawn since Sunday Ohioans awakened to above-zero temperatures.

The readings actually improved during the night. Cincinnati's midnight reading of three below rose to five at daybreak and Toledo's midnight reading of 11 above climbed to 21 at sunup.

Flurries caused by a weak weather system moved through the state this morning. These were expected to end in western Ohio during the morning, tapering off in the eastern counties by afternoon.

Snowfall was generally light with all cities reporting at least a trace. No snow is forecast for tonight—a brief lull before the next weather system attacks Ohio Thursday.

The center of the next storm should pass far enough south of Ohio that the state will escape its worst effects. Highs through Friday should be in the 20s. Lows tonight and Thursday night will hover around 10.

Some Low-Income Families Can Get Special Tax Break

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1976 tax returns.

By JIM LUTHER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Filing a federal income-tax return is not one of the more popular forms of amusement. But many persons who don't have to file might find it profitable to do so.

Heading such a list are teenagers, part-time workers and poor working families. This family, while not liable for any taxes, could qualify for a government check of up to $400.

Generally, anyone — regardless of age — who earned $5,100 or more in 1976 must file a return. But in some cases, a return is required if income totaled as much as $750.

You must file a return if you are:

—Single, under 65 and grossed at least $2,450 in 1976. If you are 65 or older, the figure rises to $3,200.

—Married, under 65, filing a joint return and had income of at least $3,600. If you are 65 or older, the figure is $4,350. If both you and your spouse are 65 or older, you must file if income totaled $5,100 or more.

—Eligible to be claimed as a dependent by a parent, have taxable dividends or interest and had total income of $750 or more.

But even if you don't have to file a return, it could be to your advantage to do so.

For example, if you are single, 20 years old and earned $2,000 last year in a part-time job, taxes should have been withheld from your wages. You can get back all that federal income tax by filing a return.

Again this year there is a special tax break for poor working families with children. It is available even to those families that use the short tax form and to those who do not itemize deductions.

This is called the "work bonus" or earned-income credit, and is designed to provide an incentive to families for staying off the welfare rolls.

The credit is not available to any family whose total earned income — such as wages, tips and fees — is $8,000 or more. To qualify, the family must include a child who in 1976 was under 19 or a full-time student, or a disabled dependent.

The credit is 10 per cent of the first $4,000 of earned income, or $400, and is reduced $1 for each $10 of income above $4,000. Thus, the credit would be only $50 if income totals $7,000.

The important thing to remember about this earned-income credit is that you can get it even if you owe no taxes.

For example, a family of four with total earnings of $4,000 would owe no tax because their income subject to taxation would be more than wiped out by the $1,900 minimum standard deduction and the $3,000 personal exemptions ($750 for each dependent).

But by filing a return and taking advantage of the credit, that family would receive a $400 check from the Treasury.

NEXT: More major changes.

Opportunity Here to Improve Farm Situation, OFU Told

COLUMBUS — Members of the Farmers Union were urged to intensify their efforts at both the state and national levels in coming weeks and months here today. Charlie Nash, executive director of the Ohio Farmers Union, making his report to the annual convention at the Imperial House North, said the opening of the 95th U.S. Congress and the 112th Ohio General Assembly presents the opportunity for legislation helpful to agriculture and the rural community.

Nash praised the appointment of Minnesota farmer and Congressman Bob Bergland as the new Secretary of Agriculture.

"This is the first active farmer in 32 years to head USDA," Nash explained, "the first in fact since Claude Wickard of Indiana served under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman."

"The important thing is that Bergland knows what it is to make a living as a farmer. He's been through the ups and downs like the rest of us," Nash added.

The Official cited the importance of several measures being recommended by the convention delegates for the 1977 General Assembly, including legislation to restrict activities in farming by off-farm corporations, school finance and real estate tax reform and legislation for an improved system of grain moisture testing.

Nash reported on the participation of OFU representatives in the newly-established National Farmers Union Commodity Councils. Norman Jones of Putnam County is representing Ohio on the wheat commodity council, Virgil Thompson of Paulding County on the soybean council and Ted Finnam on the feed grains council.

Nash said the 1976 OFU membership total is the highest in the history of the organization and that 27 counties had shown membership increases during the year.

At another point in today's convention program, Nash presented charters to six counties which had qualified during the year, bringing the number of organized counties in the state to 37.

Newly chartered counties are:

Sandusky county, with Charles Wise as president, Orrin Franks as vice-president and Ruth Carper as secretary-treasurer.

Champaign county, with David Near as president, Raymond Kemper as vice-president and Keith Hanselman as secretary-treasurer.

Huron county, with Rudolph Gerten as president, Willard Barnes as vice-president and Maynard Lautenslager as secretary-treasurer.

Erie county, with Steven Deering as president, Brian Deering as vice-president and Terri Schaeffer as secretary-treasurer.

Warren county, with Richard O'Banion as president, Dru Gilliland as vice-president and Charles Stiles as secretary-treasurer.

Morrow county, with Charles Hawk as president, Kenneth Rentz as vice-president and Mary Hawk as secretary-treasurer.

J. Mike Louiso of West Union is president of the Ohio Farmers Union.

Charles Hardin of Clinton county is vice-president of the Ohio Farmers Union.

Marquette Edges Drake

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Al McGuire went for a walk; Bob Ortel thought he was guilty of trespassing.

There were three seconds showing on the clock at Drake's Veterans Fieldhouse, and McGuire's eighth-ranked Marquette basketball team was nursing a 62-60 lead, on Butch Lee's basket two seconds earlier. Drake had called a timeout, and during the stoppage, McGuire strolled onto the court and positioned his players defensively.

Ortel, the Drake coach, wanted the officials to call a technical foul on McGuire for going onto the court — but none was called.

Three seconds later, after Napoleon Gathers' shot at the buzzer had bounced off the rim, Marquette had its 13th victory against three losses — and Ortel had a beef.

"I guess if you're Al McGuire you're allowed to do things like that," Ortel said angrily. "Those officials are not men. It was absolutely gutless of them not to call a technical."

McGuire demurred.

"I've been in the business 25 years, and they don't call technicals for things like that," he said. But McGuire did concede, "We were very fortunate — in fact, lucky — to win."

Marquette was the only Top Ten team in action Tuesday night. Among the Second Ten, No. 15 Providence beat neighborhood rival Rhode Island 82-71 and No. 17 Arkansas defeated Southwestern Conference foe Texas Christian 62-45.

Lee led Marquette with 19 points, 15 in the second half, while Bo Ellis added 14, including two key baskets in the closing minutes. Drake, 4-10, outscored Marquette 13-3 at the start of the second half and led by as many as nine points, but could not keep control.

Ken Harris and Gaither led Drake with 17 points each.

Providence fell behind 10-2 at the start but then got rolling against Rhode Island in raising its record to 10-2. Bruce Campbell led the Friars with 22 points.

Arkansas turned in what Coach Eddie Sutton called its "best defensive effort of the year" in lifting its record to 13-1 over-all and 5-0 in the SWC.

Sidney Moncrief scored 17 points and Ron Brewer 14 for the Razorbacks.

In other games, Toby Knight scored 18 points, grabbed a career-high 16 rebounds and blocked six shots, helping Notre Dame break a four-game losing streak with a 98-70 rout of Stonehill; Al Dutch scored 23 points and grabbed 11 rebounds, leading Georgetown, D.C., past Holy Cross 69-65; Tony Hanson's 26 points and 12 rebounds carried Connecticut over New Hampshire 76-56, and Bruce Grimm scored 25 points including four in a 10-2 second-half burst that helped Furman defeat Jacksonville 75-65.

Also, Jeff Swanson's 23 points and 17 rebounds led Southern Methodist to a 75-71 overtime decision over Baylor; Creighton raised its record to 12-2, beating Centenary 84-62 behind Rick Apke's 19 points; Stan Mayhew set a Weber State scoring record with 45 points and hauled in 20 rebounds in an 89-76 triumph over Utah State, and Otis Birdsong scored a season-high 43 points, pacing Houston to a 95-81 victory over Texas.

Jazz Whips Celtics; Wins Tilt 99-89

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

"When you've been down as long as we have, you have to use your brains to get back," said Pete Maravich. "Tonight we began to do that."

The New Orleans Jazz used their brains, plus 44 points by Maravich and a solid rebounding effort led by Ron Behagen, in snapping a six-game losing streak, beating the Boston Celtics 99-89. It was the Jazz' first game back in the Louisiana Superdome following an eightgame road trip.

"We finally played smart basketball," said Jazz Coach Elgin Baylor. "We played tough defense and good offense and I only wish we could play like that all the time."

Maravich scored 17 points in the first quarter, staking the Jazz to a 30-25 lead and Boston never caught up. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 28 points. Center Dave Cowens continued his comeback with 10 points and 11 rebounds, again in a reserve role.

Barring Weather, Basketball Goes Ahead

Snow, snow, go away, so that basketball games can start again.

That's been the story for the past two weeks in the area. Snow or extreme cold have cancelled games with regularity for two weeks.

With some luck, fans will be able to see their favorite team this weekend. The Westfall Mustangs were originally scheduled for an open weekend this Friday and Saturday, but they will be playing a make-up game this Saturday at Huntington. That game was originally scheduled for Jan. 14. Next Tuesday the Mustangs will entertain Paint Valley in a game that was scheduled for Jan. 7.

Coach Mike Eckle stated that his charges have been attempting to practice on a regular schedule, but that the squad has had only one full workout since Christmas vacation.

The only good thing about that is that everyone is in the same situation.

At Teays Valley High School, the Dublin game that was to be held on Jan. 14 has been rescheduled for Jan. 25 at Dublin. This Friday night, the Vikings go up against the powerful Hamilton Twp. Rangers in the Teays Valley gym.

Logan Elm cage boss Butch Kobel said that his troops have been going through their paces in sweatsuits in the colder than normal Logan Elm gym. Saturday night the Braves are at Pickerington to take on the tall Tigers. Next Tuesday, the Braves play host to the Aces from nearby Amanda-Clearcreek.

If the weather turns for the better, so will the high school sports scene. If it doesn't, we might as well cut some more firewood.

Gary Nolan Wants Multiyear Contract

CINCINNATI — Pitcher Gary Nolan, whose comeback coincided with the Cincinnati Reds' back-to-back world championships, says he isn't negotiating "for anything outlandish." But he wants the security of a multiyear contract or he plans to play out his option.

"I'm not going to mess around. If I'm not signed by spring training, that's it. I'll go all the way on my option," said Nolan, a 15-game winner in both of the last two seasons.

"I'm not gonna stage any masked holdup at the pay window," said the 28-year-old righthander. "I'm being realistic about it."

"Some guys in baseball aren't and they're not being fair to the fans and baseball in general," said Nolan, one of five regulars still unsigned. The others are catcher Johnny Bench, third baseman Pete Rose, second baseman Joe Morgan and shortstop Dave Concepcion.

The top control artist in the National League the past two seasons, Nolan said he is "looking for more than I ever had before, not so much in money, but in that strange old word, security."

"I think I've more than paid my dues with all that's happened to me. Just getting back on the field after my operation was a big thing," said the Reds' No. 1 draft choice of 1966 who missed two years with a lame shoulder. He overcame two risky operations to return to the major leagues.

"I've always done the giving, it's

Ben Poquette Named Top MAC Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ben Poquette of Central Michigan, who had 21 points and 11 rebounds, three blocked shots and three steals against Miami, is the Mid-American Conference Basketball Player of the Week.

The 6-foot-9 senior center from East Lansing, Mich., also sank three foul shots in the last 30 seconds that secured a 78-76 victory over the Redskins, pushing the Chippewas into the undisputed league lead.

Baseball Dynasties Shaken Up

NEW YORK (AP) — All-star catcher Thurman Munson announces out of the blue that he may ask the New York Yankees to trade him. He wants what Reggie Jackson got — $3 million for five years. His battery mate, pitcher Ed Figueroa, is reported saying that he ought to get as much as Don Gullett, who was picked up for $2 million.

In Cincinnati there are ominous rumblings in the Big Red Machine. Tony Perez, the team's RBI champ, is peddled off to Montreal. Catcher Johnny Bench warns that management can expect strong demands from players who carried the team to consecutive World Series championships.

Such reliables as Dave Concepcion, Rawley Eastwick, Ken Griffey and George Foster are threatening to play out their options. Pete Rose has given them a sharp dressing-down.

The rattle of dollars in million-dollar stacks is creating obvious unrest in the camps of baseball's two most successful franchises, raising a series of foreboding questions:

Is the Big Red Machine, which had just laid the first stones of a baseball dynasty, facing piece-by-piece demolition?

Are the New York Yankees, who restored pride to the pin stripes, about to blow it all because of player greed and inherent jealousies?

Are the Reds and Yankees suffering the most damaging impact from the unique free agent re-entry draft which saw 15 top players go on the open market and sell their services for more than $20 million?

Munson's comments at a sports dinner in Hamilton, Ontario, only added grist to the mill of discontent surfacing not only with the affluent Yankees but also in the highly disciplined and normally tightlyknit camp of the champion Reds.

What Munson said was that owner George Steinbrenner had promised him the kind of contract that the Yankees gave free agent Reggie Jackson. That's more than four times his present $140,000 salary.

Figueroa, who makes about $50,000 a year, figures he will be worth as much to the Yanks as Gullett, who gets $2 million for five years. Baseball has reached a hazardous state where everybody wants the going rate — which is slightly above astronomical.

Bench and Rose have taken conflicting viewpoints, Bench predicting a wave of free agencies, Rose arguing "players want too much." Their boss, Bob Howsam, has a dislike for long-term contracts.

Howsam is one of the front men in the conservative "hold the line" stances adopted also by Phil Wrigley of the Cubs, Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers, August Busch of the Cards and Don Grant of the Mets.

The Yankees' Steinbrenner is one of the "spenders," as are Gene Autry of the Angels, Ted Turner of the Braves, Brad Corbett of the Rangers and Ray Kroc of the Padres.

"The first draft was unique," says Jerry Kapstein, agent of baseball millionaires, "a dozen quality players, people willing to spend for them. Next time there may be more players, less quality, fewer big spenders. It will all level out."

The committee said Thistledown, Cleveland's thoroughbred track, has a hazardous backstretch and badly planned, poorly drained barns. "The plant, the track, the parking area and particularly the barn area all need to be improved," the group recommended.

Of River Downs, a Cincinnati thoroughbred plant, the report said, "Access has been limited. Parking facilities are very crowded. Twenty wooden barns are still being used."

Beulah Park, a thoroughbred and quarter horse facility near Columbus, was told its clubhouse "provides very little view for patrons and is out-of-date and inadequate."

The committee said Northfield Park, a harness track between Akron and Cleveland, has "congestion in barn aisles with hay and straw stacked in a way that adds to the fire hazard. All traffic must enter from Ohio Route 8. This hampers people entering the track."

Scioto Downs, the newest harness plant in Ohio, was criticized for an impractical design. "The spectacular construction of the grandstand and clubhouse leaves patrons exposed to cold and rain. It results in fluctuating attendance and a disappointing crowd when it rains," said the committee.

Raceway Park, Toledo's harness track, was charged with having barns that were very long and attached in some places, "creating a fire hazard." The criticism of Lebanon, a county fairgrounds facility that houses harness meetings, was its limited size, access problems and lack of modern clubhouse.

The committee also sees need for improvement in automatic totalizer equipment at county fair harness meetings.

"The odds are posted manually in the course of the wagering," the group charged. "As a result, the lag in posting odds changes and payoffs causes suspicion."

Racing Panel Eyes Woes Ahead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Lottery has hurt the state's horse racing tracks, but off-track betting would create an even bigger problem.

Those are two of the conclusions of the Ohio Racing Study Committee report, presented Tuesday to the Ohio Racing Commission.

"It is evident that the lottery with its high pressure promotion and frequent introduction of new games does have an effect (on tracks)," the committee said. "The biggest factor is that lottery tickets are available in so many places."

Even so, the total handle at Ohio's seven commercial tracks increased $14 million to almost $353 million in 1976.

The 16-member committee charged off-track betting "virtually destroys racing as a spectator sport" and recommends it not be permitted in Ohio.

The group cited New York figures where 40 to 43 per cent of bettors at off-track betting parlors attend tracks less. "As attendance at the tracks declines," the committee said, "the spectacle of racing will die. Tracks will become obsolete."

The committee, composed of track operators, horse breeders and racing officials, opposes jai lai, dog racing or casino gambling for Ohio.

In connection with that, the group said all seven of the state's commercial racing plants need improvements and again sought the construction of two "super tracks" in the Cleveland and Dayton-Cincinnati areas.

Nicklaus Favored

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus makes his first start of the year and Gerald Ford makes his first start as ex-President this week in the $200,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am golf tournament.

The soon-to-be ex-President will miss Thursday's opening round due to the inauguration of Jimmy Carter, but will compete as an 18-handicapper and the amateur partner of Arnold Palmer on Friday and Saturday. They'll also play together Sunday — if they qualify for the final round.

Only the best 30 of the 168 teams of one pro and one amateur each qualify for the last round. They'll have to work hard to make it. In the pro-am section of this old tournament, scoring is based on the better ball of each team, including the amateur's handicap. Ford has been assigned an 18, meaning he gets one stroke a hole.

Since he will not be able to compete in Thursday's opening round, Palmer's score on his own ball will count as the team score that day.

Under the unique format for this event, the pros and amateurs play one round each over three courses on the spectacularly beautiful Monterey Peninsula. At the end of 54 holes, the field is cut for the final round at the famed Pebble Beach Golf Links.

Spyglass Hill, normally one of the tournament courses, is being rebuilt and is not available this year. It will be replaced by the Monterey Peninsula Country Club Shore course. Cypress Point is the other.

ABC-TV will provide National television coverage Saturday and Sunday from Pebble Beach only. President Ford and Palmer, of course, are in the portion of the field that will play the television course on Saturday. In addition to the pro-am competition — which includes a number of show business personalities, pro athletes and other celebrities — the pros also keep individual scores in the main competition.

Jack Nicklaus, as usual, is favored here. And that's despite a horrendous 82. The worst round of his career, over the last 10 holes last year.

"I got into a position where I had to gamble. And every time I gambled, I lost," said Nicklaus, who went on to take the leading money-winning spot and Player of the Year honors.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Workaday routine may seem more tedious than usual, but evening activities will more than make up for it. Look for exceptionally stimulating hours with highly congenial companions.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Mixed planetary influences. Good opportunities for advancement abound in your area but you may have to search them out yourself. Personal interests highly favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Emphasize your stability. Many will look to you for support and guidance. Without overtaxing yourself, give help wherever you can.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A day calling for your best judgment. You could cause unnecessary misunderstandings by involving yourself in the affairs of others. Don't underestimate the competition either.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Mixed influences. Check impulsive comments, action. You could step into trouble with little effort through wrong or heedless tactics.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A period of adjustment. Profit by experience and study the methods of successful persons. Make moves designed to enhance production, insure gains.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Be alert to deceptive elements now. Even your closest friends may be telling you only half the story. Here's where your innate perceptiveness and intuition can be of great help.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): This day will be a far better one than you may anticipate at first. Be enthusiastic, but not hurried; resolute, but not obstinate. You have much to gain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Group activity highly favored. Stars indicate that now is the time for you to make some exciting new contacts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Give careful thought to financial affairs - not only business-wise but where your personal budget is concerned. Don't let mere whim direct your purchases.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Quite unexpectedly you may find the solution to a difficult problem. Another's casual words could put you on the right track.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Present conditions may not warrant the expansion you have in mind. Go slow if conservative opposition arises.

YOU BORN TODAY are a Capricorn-Aquarius cuspal (one born at the change of Signs) and, as such, are endowed with tremendous vitality, both mental and physical. You are always alert to new trends, and grasp opportunity eagerly. Whatever your life work, you are usually successful because you strive, never give up, are eager to achieve. But sometimes you scatter energies into too many fields. You enjoy lively companions, are extremely creative; would make an outstanding musician, writer or painter. Try to curb your introspective tendencies. Birthdate of: Mischa Elman, renowned violinist; Thomas J. ("Stonewall") Jackson, U.S. Military leader.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) - CBS' Walter Cronkite is covering his eighth presidential inauguration Thursday. But he's the new kid on that beat compared to an old friend - Robert Trout of ABC News.

Trout, 68, is working his 12th inauguration, doing it again on radio. The first time was in March 1933, when he reported on the inaugural parade that followed the swearing-in of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He worked for CBS then, told listeners what he saw from his chilly parade-route perch atop the old Willard Hotel in Washington, D.C. He might have done it from a Navy Blimp - a radio first - but had bad luck.

Trout, speaking by phone from Washington, said when he learned CBS planned to have someone report the 1933 parade from the blimp, he applied for the job. He got it. And quickly lost it.

Seems he admitted to the man in charge he'd never been aloft before. Whereupon, Trout said, the boss exclaimed, "Okay, that's it. You're not going." He was afraid I'd get airsick and ruin things.

"I begged and pleaded to go, but Paul Douglas did it," he added, referring to the late actor who started as a CBS announcer in New York.

Trout, who joined ABC in 1975, having spent most of his 45 years in broadcasting with CBS, was asked if he felt shaky when he covered the first inauguration, live, on a network hookup, from high atop the Willard.

"No, not really," said the reporter, who began on what now is station WTOP in Washington. "I'd had more than a year of breaking-in, ad-libbing, announcing, and it wasn't all that different."

"I was kind of an ad-lib specialist who was sent out on all kinds of things, so I can't really say I was nervous about it. Of course, you always get a little adrenalin flowing. I still do now."

Trout, a North Carolinian who now lives in Spain when not reporting for ABC, said the atmosphere of President-elect Carter's coming inauguration strikes him as different from the first inauguration he covered in its pervasive effort at plain-folks simplicity.

"Carter seems to want to give the impression he's just slipping into it, that it's just another day, another day's work," he said, adding that such wasn't the case at Roosevelt's first inauguration.

Continuous network TV coverage of Carter's inauguration and related events starts Thursday at 10 a.m. EST on CBS and NBC, a half-hour later on ABC. It'll end at 5 p.m. at CBS and NBC, at 4:30 p.m. on ABC.

At night, ABC will be on the air from 11:30 p.m. to one a.m. EST, with reports on six inaugural parties in Washington.

Public TV's live coverage of the day's events will run 90 minutes, starting at 11:30 a.m. EST. A taped 90-minute show of the inaugural highlights will air that night at 9 p.m. EST.

Auditor Releases Funds

State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson reported today the January distribution of $5,006,407.70 in local Government Fund money to Ohio's 88 counties and 386 cities and villages levying local income taxes.

Local Government Fund distributions for the first month of the new year showed an increase of $523,466.21 over the January 1976 distributions.

Under the Local Government Fund formula the counties received 11-12ths of the amount, or $4,589,215.67, while the municipalities having their own income taxes shared the remaining $417,196.73.

There are 386 municipalities levying local income taxes. However, the Auditor's office is withholding monthly payments to two villages in favor of lump sum payments to them in December. Withheld this month was $2.16 due the Village of Timberlake, Lake County, and $2.54 due the Village of Canal Winchester, Franklin County.

The Local Government Fund distribution is made monthly from 3.5 per cent of the previous month's collections of the state income, sales and corporation taxes. The use of the percentage factor causes the amount available for distribution to local governmental units to fluctuate monthly, Ferguson said.

In December, the month on which the January distribution was based, the state collected $96,964,818. 21 from the sales tax, $42,346,271.15 from the income tax and $3,729,399.09 from the corporation tax.

The Pickaway County Treasurer received $12,500, and the Circleville City Treasurer received $236.34, bringing the total for Circleville and Pickaway County to $12,736.34.

Fight Against Bell Reaches Last Ditch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders are planning a final attempt to defeat President-elect Carter's nomination of Griffin Bell as attorney general.

But two other Cabinet nominees moved toward virtually certain Senate committee approval today.

The Senate Commerce Committee was expected to endorse Carter's choice of former Rep. Brock Adams of Washington as transportation secretary and Juanita Morris Kreps as commerce secretary.

But the Judiciary Committee agreed to hear additional witnesses recruited by the NAACP, which has been a leading opponent of the Bell nomination. The organization claims Bell worked to discourage racial integration in the South.

The NAACP's Washington lobbyist, Clarence Mitchell, said he was arranging for testimony today by Jesse Jackson, head of the Chicago-based civil rights group, Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity); Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi NAACP branch, and black parents who filed lawsuits to desegregate schools in Atlanta, Austin, Tex., and Corpus Christi, Tex.

Despite the opposition, Bell seemed likely to win committee approval and a favorable vote from the full Senate when it reviews the nomination soon after Carter's inauguration Thursday.

Carter lost one of his nominees to a top level post earlier in the week. Theodore Sorensen, Carter's choice to head the CIA, withdrew on Monday because of opposition that arose in part from his admission that he had used classified material in writing a book.

Carter aides said Tuesday the President-elect does not plan to name a replacement at once.

Seven other Carter nominees to Cabinet or Cabinet-level posts sailed through Senate committee votes Tuesday on the way to confirmation by the full Senate. They were:

—The Senate Finance Committee endorsed W. Michael Blumenthal as treasury secretary and Joseph Califano as secretary of health, education and welfare. Blumenthal, 51, was chairman of the Bendix Corp., and Califano, 45, is a Washington lawyer and was a high-ranking aide in the Johnson administration.

—The Senate Banking Committee approved Patricia Roberts Harris, 52, a lawyer and former ambassador to Luxembourg, to be secretary of housing and urban development.

—The Interior Committee cleared Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus as interior secretary as members praised his past work in protecting the environment in the West.

—By a 13-to-2 vote, the Labor and Public Welfare Committee approved Ray Marshall, a University of Texas economist, as labor secretary.

—The Banking Committee

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, one of baseball's top all-time sluggers, was named to the Hall of Fame today by the Baseball Writers Association of America in his first year of eligibility for the shrine in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Banks, a shortstop and first baseman for 19 seasons with the Cubs, was the only player in the writers' balloting to receive the 75 per cent required for election. He had 321 votes of the 383 cast by 10-year members of the BBWAA. The required number of votes for election was 288.

LA HABRA, Calif. (AP) — A Southern California fan of former President Richard M. Nixon says he and two friends bought Nixon's former law office and will restore it so people can visit the site.

Bergland Gets Backing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Farmers Union executive director Charlie Nash has hailed President-elect Jimmy Carter's choice of Bob Bergland as the new U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Nash told the annual Farmers Union meeting here, "This is the first active farmer in 32 years to head the USDA." He said the last was Claude Wickard of Indiana, agriculture director under Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

"The important thing is that Bergland knows what it is to make a living as a farmer," Nash said. "He's been through the ups and downs like the rest of us."

Delegates to the convention elected Charles Hardin of Clinton County vice president of the state union. J. Mike Louiso of West Union is Union president.

The delegates also elected three delegates to the national union convention March 5-9 in San Antonio, Texas—Donna Hardin of Clinton County, Herman Wannemacher of Paulding County and Chester Kieffer of Brown County.
